

There is strength in numbers.

September 4, 2019

For MANY, the whole political picture can feel overwhelming.

Do my voice and vote matter?

I can't stand the hateful tone
in politics today!

Which party should I choose?

There are just too
many issues.

However...

"In the Catholic tradition, responsible citizenship is a virtue; participation in the political process is a moral obligation." – United States Conference of Catholic Bishops

These are strong and convicting words.

As believers, we are called to become informed, active, and responsible participants in the political process.

Being an "informed" citizen does not mean being an expert on all issues. It means paying attention to what is going on around you and advocating for crucial social issues that you feel called to.

The Catholic Advocacy Network (CAN) makes it easy.

You get that. Now, how about you share that? Please forward this email to a friend or family member. Encourage them to sign up for a FREE subscription to CAN (a weekly report on critical legislation). They will also receive "Action Alerts!" (a call-to-action on issues that affect our community and state).
